SLAVIC LEXICOGRAPHY IN NON-SLAVIC COUNTRIES: A FIRST-PERSON ACCOUNT

The initial part of this presentation addresses the state and possible future directions of Slavic studies outside Slavic countries, including some recent important publications. Having outlined this backdrop, the presentation then focuses on Slavic lexicography in non-Slavic countries. The author will present the issues in organizing lexicographic projects and finding solutions to challenges in them using the example of various dictionaries and glossaries in which he was involved. These projects range from coming lists of sensitive geostrategic terminology and lexical lists used with Alzheimer patients to natural language processing knowledge bases to various specialized dictionaries (colloquial, Islamic, false cognates, etc.)
